

A PRIZE FOR YOU

IF YOU CAN SOLVE THE PUZZLING PIN PROBLEM

We reprint herewith the conditions of our great Puzzling Pin Problem Contest which started Sunday. You still have time to enter the contest---don't fail to do so. Here is an opportunity to obtain a generous quantity of delicious ice cream with cash prizes as well, all for a few pleasant moments spent solving this problem.

In the sentence of ten words given below, each letter of which is numbered, there is one word missing.

Can You Supply the Missing Word?

In the diagram shown below you will find thirty-six circles, each numbered to correspond with letters of the nine words given. To find the missing word, take five pins and place them in five of the numbered circles in such a way that no two pins will be on the same line, either vertical, horizontal or diagonal. When the pins are correctly placed the letters represented by the numbers in the circles will spell the missing word.

DANVILLE ALSO TO SWAT THE FLY

Citizens Co-Operating With Health Department—Building Boom in Progress.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Danville, Va., June 2.—A "swat the fly" campaign is to be prosecuted with great vigor in this city during the coming months, and the local press is urging the movement as much as possible.

At a recent meeting of the Common Council, the Health Committee recommended the employing of a man whose sole duty should be the prevention of garbage accumulating in back yards and in vacant lots, and also the supervision of stables. The citizens are co-operating with the Health Department to this end, and lime and kerosene oil is being used in large quantities in the likely hatching places.

The city is at the present time in the throes of a building boom never before equaled. During the past two months alone building permits to the amount of $122,000 have been issued, and the work upon these structures have already commenced. In the heart of the business section perhaps the most important building is the City Electric Light Plant, upon which work was commenced a few days ago. It is the idea of the local officials to make the plant a handsome and an up-to-date one. The site, which is upon Bridge Street, is an excellent one, and property surrounding the actual building has been acquired, and this will be converted into a lawn in which will be flower beds and seats. It will be a small park. The new building, with machinery, will cost, it is estimated, about $200,000, and it will be completed by December 1.

The old municipal plant has been sold to the Dan River and Riverside Cotton Mills for the sum of $50,000, and while it is not so definitely stated, it is thought probably that the company will use it as an additional power station for the mills.

During the coming year the Dan River Cotton Mill Company will undertake an unusual large amount of improvements. The company is to build a four-story building on North Main Street for the purpose of handling loose cotton. This cotton will be blown across the river in large galvanized iron pipes to a new picker room which is in course of erection now. In addition to this, what was formerly a number of commission merchants' stores will in a few months time be a spinning mill. At School field, a suburb of Danville, where the above company has already three large mills, a fourth is to be constructed shortly, which, including the installation of up-to-date machinery, will be a $1,000,000 proposition.

The new Elks' Home, at the corner of Floyd and Main streets, will probably be the most beautiful edifice on Main Street. This will be a four-story building and complete in every way. The first brick was laid last week by W. T. Swann, a prominent Elk.

To replace the two stores which were gutted by the fire of last Christmas, even finer ones are now being built up. On the vacant lot between the Post-Office and Wallace's Drug Store, the Arcade building is being built, and is now nearing completion.

The work of preparing the land for the new Meriwold Country Club has been commenced, and before very long the building of the clubhouse will be commenced. Recently a large tract of land adjoining the club has been acquired, bringing the total area up to ten acres.

SPECIAL TERM OF COURT.

Will Be Held at Amherst by Judge Gordon on Wednesday.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Amherst, Va., June 2.—Judge B. T. Gordon will hold a special term of court at Amherst on Wednesday next, June 5. At this time the case of Lynchburg vs. Amherst county, for repairs to the free bridge over James River will be heard. The case will be tried before a jury from Nelson county.

The Board of Supervisors will hold its regular meeting here next Tuesday. As the board will not meet again before July 1, which is the time designated for the establishment of toll gates, it is expected that the committee appointed to draft resolutions in regard to toll rates will make its report.

Judge B. T. Gordon has designated C. I. Scott to represent in Amherst county the Bar Association committee, which has in hand the creation of a suitable memorial to the late Judge Thornton I. Massie, who was killed in the Hillsville tragedy.

News of Petersburg

Times-Dispatch Bureau, 5 Bollingbrook Street, (Telephone 1485.) Petersburg, Va., June 2.

The executive committee of the newly organized antimachine or Roosevelt wing of the Republican party, of which Jesse M. Newcomb, of Petersburg, is State chairman, is expected to meet in Richmond to-morrow for the consideration of special business. It is probable that among other matters the committee will formulate a notice of contest against the Taft delegation at Chicago, and appeal for recognition as the regular Republican party in Virginia. It is said that assurances have been given of the recognition of this wing of the party, should Roosevelt control the national convention.

New City Budget. The Finance Committee is now making up city budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1, and will probably be able to submit it to the Council, which meets Thursday night. Estimates of receipts and expenditures will be presented. There will be no change in the rate of taxation—$1.10 on the $100 of values.

Grays in Camp.

The Petersburg Grays, Company G, Second Virginia Infantry, Captain McCredy, took their first practice march and camping out for the season yesterday evening, spending the night and to-day in camp on the grounds of the Country Club, in Dinwiddie county. The company, with full ranks, is practicing preparatory to going into the State camp.

Sunday Afternoon Wedding.

Miss Esther Alperin and Louis Levitt, both of this city, were married this afternoon at 5 o'clock, at the residence of the bride's brother, Sol Cooper, on Union Street. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a large gathering of friends by Rabbi L. Goldberg, of Norfolk. Many guests from a distance were present. The parlor was prettily decorated, and the bride was given away by Mr. Cooper, her brother-in-law. She was gown in princess lace over duchess satin and carried lilies of the valley. She wore a hat of white lace, trimmed with lilies of the valley. Miss Alperin, sister of the bride, in a white lingerie gown over blue messaline, and carrying a bouquet of lilies, was maid of honor. Walter Sachs was best man. Refreshments were served on the lawn after which Mr. and Mrs. Levitt left for the North on their bridal trip.

Sudden Death.

William Baskerville died quite suddenly about 10 o'clock last night at his home on West Washington Street. He was in his forty-third year, and his funeral will take place from the Second Presbyterian Church to-morrow afternoon.

To Raise a Tablet.

The Junior Memorial Association, an auxiliary to the Ladies' Memorial Association, is preparing to erect a marble tablet in Old Blenheim Church, on which will be inscribed the lines of the famous poem: "Thou art crumbling to the dust old Pyle." The poem will thus be perpetuated in marble. Miss Bettie O. Sweeney is the president of the junior association, and she is training the young folk up to honor the memory of the heroic Southern soldiers.

Woodmen Memorial Service.

The annual memorial exercises of the Phoenix Camp, Modern Woodmen of America, in commemoration of the dead of the order were held this afternoon in the Lyric Theatre. There was a large attendance of members and of spectators. William I. Wheary acted as master of ceremonies, and the memorial address was delivered by R. E. Gill, of this city. The program embraced several selections of sweet music.

Personal News.

General Sult Bolling, postmaster of this city, has been confined to his home for several days. General Bolling is the commanding officer of the Virginia Division, United Confederate Veterans, and has friends all through the State.

The Episcopal Council of the Diocese of Southern Virginia has under its auspices three successful church schools for girls. It is now contemplating the establishment of a church school for boys.

TRYING TO SAVE POLICY OF DOLLAR DIPLOMACY

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Washington, June 2.—With the administration's "dollar diplomacy" policy threatened by abolition of the Bureau of Trade Relations in the State Department, as proposed by the House, certain manufacturers are appealing to Congress to save the plan.

DeCoursey May, chairman of the directors of the New York Shipbuilding Company, beneficiary of "dollar diplomacy's" greatest achievement—securing for American firms contracts for building the two Argentine battleships—has issued a statement extolling the work of the bureau.

"Had it not been for the assistance of the State Department we never could have gotten the contract," he said.

MASS OF EVIDENCE AGAINST BEACH

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Alken, Va., June 2.—When the grand jury convenes Monday Solicitor Robert L. Gunter will be prepared to lay before that body a mass of evidence which he believes will undoubtedly result in an indictment being returned against Frederick O. Beach, of the New York "400." By order of the town authorities, a warrant was issued on April 8 for Beach's arrest, charging assault and battery, with intent to kill his pretty wife, Mrs. Camilla Beach, who was the victim of a murderous assault one night last February, while the Beaches were occupying their winter home here. Mrs. Beach was struck over the head with a fence paling and her throat slashed. Her pocketknife, a dainty-handled, diamond-studded affair, on which there are stains which expert chemists declare are blood cubes, will be exhibited before the grand jurors, who will be told how the knife was secured by Special Agent Baughn, a detective, who worked up the evidence against Beach, after Beach had denied owning a pocketknife. Baughn will come from Atlanta to appear before the grand jury, and he will tell the sixteen men of his three weeks' work while he was investigating for the city of Alken.

PRISONERS MAKE ESCAPE FROM JAIL

Force Heavy Iron Door, Which Shut Them In From Freedom.

Winston-Salem, N. C., June 2.—By forcing off the iron combination door, which stood between them and freedom, a daring jail delivery was effected here late last night by Nand Smith and Walt Evans, said to be two of the worst characters in the county prison, and Harvey Coleman, all three white. How the men managed to force off the heavy and well fastened door of their cell is a mystery. Jailer Adams and his family were awakened by the loud calls of prisoners in the cells. The jailer rushed back and they told him that the prisoners had been out of the jail about five minutes. When asked why they had not sounded the alarm sooner, if they intended to sound it at all, the men said that Smith and Evans had declared they would kill any one who made the least noise.

The jail-breakers were captured on a Norfolk and Western freight train leaving here at 8 o'clock this evening for Roanoke. They were taken off the train by officers at Walnut Cove and brought back here in an automobile.

DESPONDENT, SHE SHOOTS HERSELF

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

New York, June 2.—Miss Martha Miller, a governess, went to the dental parlors on the twelfth floor of the Beaufort, a fashionable apartment house at 140 West Fifty-seventh Street, yesterday and inquired if Dr. Leslie K. Palmer, who is associated there with Dr. H. W. Gillette, was in. She was told by an office attendant that he was not, and turned as if to go. A moment later a shot was heard, and Dr. Gillette and the attendant went into a bathroom opening off the reception room and there found the woman seated in a chair. She had shot herself in the abdomen, and on the floor at her feet lay the revolver. She was removed to the Flower Hospital.

"I shot myself," she said, "because I was in love with Dr. Palmer. He has been trying to shake me, and I became melancholy and decided to end it all."

The woman probably will die. Miss Miller is thirty-six years old and has been living for some time at 288 West Fifty-fifth Street, where she rents a room from Mrs. M. Hallock. Dr. Palmer also rents a room from Mrs. Hallock.

Dr. Palmer said he had known the woman for about two years, but that during the last six months they had not been friendly. He said that she was a governess. She is a German and is well educated.
